Chief Gen. WPRM Mathias Wenda: West Papua Revolutionary Army is Responsible for the Action at Wutung, PNG-West Papua Border that Killed 2 Indonesian Soldiers Today 1 October 2019

Today, October 1st, 2019, at 8:00AM, in Wutung, the border area between West Papua and Papua New Guinea, Chief Gen. WPRM Mathias Wenda led his troops and attacked Indonesian military at the border that came to kill Melanesians in our own land.

General Wenda says this action is in response to deployment of tens of thousands of military and police with full arms to terrorise and kill Melanesian civilians in West Papua.

General Wenda says “I am the one responsible for this revolution to Free West Papua from Indonesian neo-colonialism, and therefore, asking for support from all Melanesian leaders to speak up for our Melanesian identity and dignity.”

General Wenda says that Indonesian military and police with full arms should fight West Papua Revolutionary fighters, not unarmed civilians, children and women. They should re-consider their actions, because West Papua is part of a bigger Melanesian and South Pacific families and we will not stay quiet because of state-organised acts of terror, intimidation and murder.

“Wake up! Raise up! Defend your dignity! All Melanesians, from Sorong to Wallis-Futuna.
